

Hi there!

I'm Agustin Cruz

As a driven Engineer and Frontend Developer, I am always seeking new opportunities to challenge myself, create innovative solutions, and grow both professionally and personally.

With a curious, persistent and determined mindset, I am able to tackle daily obstacles and find effective solutions. I have a creative way to think above and beyond, also a great ability to learn quickly and flexibility to continuous change.

In addition to my technical skills, I am a strong communicator and motivator, and I enjoy working with others to identify areas for growth and improvement.

With a focused profile in this area, I have spent considerable time studying and practicing a wide range of relevant technologies including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, MySQL, MongoDB and GitHub.

Through my learning journey, I have also gained valuable knowledge in web SEO and Blockchain. This diverse skillset enables me to approach development challenges with a well-rounded perspective.

When I'm not coding, I love to travel and explore new cultures and environments, I am a nature lover. I am always ready for the next adventure and eager to make the most of every experience.

Have a wonderful day, and enjoy the journey!
